

AN OPEN INVITE TO YOUR BETTER FUTURE

Before I offer you what I have for you in this short letter,
I want you to consider this statement:

“If you don’t build YOUR dream, somebody else will hire YOU to help them build THEIRS.”

When is the right time to pursue your dreams?

When is the right time to become what you are working so hard to become?

“In my opinion, the current world investment climate has created some HUGE opportunities to build wealth.”

Due to changes our governments have made as a response to the C-19 “Pandemic”; the establishment of decentralized finance, and the rise of crypto-currencies (plus many others); there has never been a better time to take control of your future and learn to exploit market price action as a full-time trader.

If you have the interest in becoming a full-time Equities/Options/Futures or FOREX trader, I encourage you to take the first and most significant step today by asking yourself exactly how you expect to participate; and how you will plan for that critical time when you are learning what needs to be learned. All traders have losses and the most common time for losses is during the crucial time between learning how to trade; and knowing how to exploit your edge. Your learning curve will likely have losses as you develop your approach. More importantly, there is a way to reduce this eventuality and give yourself a better head start.

My career as a full-time trader spans more than 35 years. During this time I have seen every kind of market situation possible and participated in many global trading opportunities. I believe that my experience, education, and market background make me uniquely qualified to assist other traders with fine-tuning their trading approach. I believe anyone can learn to trade successfully and I have developed a method of training that will shorten the learning curve of almost anyone who desires to trade profitably; including traders who are already financially ahead from their trading. If you believe you are emotionally & financially qualified to trade—there is no reason why you cannot make the move to full-time trading and begin making the money you deserve to make.

If you are trading now, there is no reason why you cannot improve your current approach and earn at a higher level.

“The markets are there for you to exploit—and all you need to do is have an actionable, well-laid-out plan along with the skills to enforce that plan.”

If you have been laid off, lost your job, suffered a business set-back, or any number of financially distressing events recently; it might be the perfect time for you to begin a new career—one with truly no upside cap to earnings. What you need to do now is get in the conversation about what you want and who you would like to become. The markets are there for you to exploit—and all you need to do is have an actionable, well-laid-out plan; along with the skills to enforce that plan. These skills are something anyone can learn; but you need guidance to find what is required for you personally—there is no “one size fits all” method of trading. Anyone who tells you that is lying to you...

This is why I am making myself available for serious people looking to have the conversation. Additionally—I will do this at NO COST to the individual. Once we have invested the time to help you decide how best to move forward—if trading full time is really the right thing for you to do—I can lay out a plan and a cost for continued coaching & training tailored specifically for you and your unique needs. I will not ask you for a dime unless you feel I am the right coach for you—because it is your future and you need to take control of it; that means controlling who you invest your time/effort with as well.
